

Limited Submissions Internal Application Instructions

<http://blavatnikawards.org/awards/national-awards/nomination-guidelines/>

Your application for the internal competition should include:

1. Curriculum Vitae:

- Name, current institution(s), and position title.
- Education and training, including postdoctoral training and/or residency.
- Employment history.
- Honors and awards with years when they were received.
- Select peer-reviewed publications – List only published work or manuscripts in press authored during independent career; do not include manuscripts that are submitted or in preparation or those published during graduate or postdoctoral studies. Conference abstracts and proceedings should only be included if they are the primary way of disseminating new results in your field, such as in computer science and mathematics.
- Select patents and patent applications, with years.
- Research grants – List funding for the main ongoing and completed projects on which you are a PI or a co-PI.
- Scientific Leadership, including any significant roles in the greater academic community. This includes major editorial responsibilities, public outreach activities, conference organization, institutional administrative responsibilities (e.g. Department Chair, departmental committee) and service on external committees.
- Invited talks and lectures, listing notable invited talks from the nominee's independent career, including keynote addresses and named lectures, with year given and inviting organization/institution.
- Professional Service and Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Statement, describing their outreach activities and/or professional service, with particular focus on activities and service related to increasing diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) in the scientific community.

2. Research Summary (Max. 1,000 words.)

- Name which disciplinary category of Life Sciences, Physical Sciences & Engineering, and Chemistry to which you are applying. Please choose from the categories listed here: <http://blavatnikawards.org/awards/national-awards/disciplines/>
- Be written in the first person by the nominee;
- Describe up to five of the nominee's most significant scientific contributions and research accomplishments from their independent career;
- Be written to be accessible to another scientist working in their overarching disciplinary category (e.g. Life Sciences) but not necessarily in their specific field of study (e.g. Neuroscience);
- Include key results, their impact on the nominee's field of study, and the nominee's specific role in the described work (especially where the nominee is involved in large collaborations);
- One figure illustrating the most significant results is allowed. Citations and figure caption do not count toward the word limit.
