Purpose: The Maternal and Child Health (MCH) Leadership, Education, and Advancement in Undergraduate Pathways (LEAP) Training Program establishes pathway programs that aim to expand the MCH workforce. These programs increase access to healthcare and public health services for maternal and child health (MCH) populations, including in rural or other medically underserved communities.

The program objectives to be accomplished during the period of performance include:

- Expose interdisciplinary undergraduate students to MCH-related training, graduate programs, and careers in healthcare and public health services.
- Provide targeted mentoring to improve academic achievement, support leadership development, and guide post-graduate MCH-related career plans.
- Offer internships and experiential learning in MCH healthcare and public health services.
- Establish and strengthen partnerships with MCH-related organizations to improve access to and quality of health services for MCH populations.

Internal Application Requirements: Upload the following information to the Google Form at <https://forms.gle/dSws4v1HQFJFjuok8> by the internal deadline:
